

Check.

AMS ✓ PAR

a higher level of assurance

Our focused expertise is your assurance of maximum profit recovery.

With the industry's explosive growth in revenues and expenses, your company needs to have complete confidence in the contracts and relationships that are the underpinning of your business. As an independent firm specializing in contract compliance, AMS-PAR will help you enhance your company's financial performance and help ensure your control environment is working as intended through expert technical analysis of your contractual relationships.

AMS-PAR is recognized as a knowledgeable and trusted contracts compliance advisor that can provide an in-depth understanding of your company's contracts whether related to joint venture operations, vendor contract compliance, royalty distributions, project construction, or production and other allocations.

Tracking the complexities of compliance

Many companies do not have accounting and procurement departments that are large enough to conduct real-time in-depth, retrospective contract compliance assessments. The process is highly complex due to the voluminous detail that needs to be analyzed to document performance. Issues involving contract interpretation, cost allocation, incentive benchmarks, and independence must be evaluated case-by-case, making the assessment even more difficult. Summarized billings do not provide enough documentation to decipher the validity of invoiced charges. Often, an audit is needed to obtain the detail needed to assess compliance.

Having AMS-PAR professionals handle this process not only allows your employees to focus on current projects, but results in a much more thorough and independent investigation.

Professionals experienced in your industry

At AMS-PAR, our principals and staff are professionals with a broad range of skills, experience, and talents. As one of the premier firms in the business, we have accrued a knowledge base that gives us special insights and practical, straightforward solutions to your company's complex needs. We also provide ongoing staff training to keep a sharp edge on our expertise.

Joint Venture
Vendor/Supplier
Accounts Payable
Project Construction
Royalty/Revenue

Advanced approach to technology

Working with state-of-the-art technology, we employ tools that enable us to interrogate data in new ways. With this analysis advantage, we can uncover more discrepancies by looking at the information differently. The result is greater assurance for you that your company will maximize recovery of lost profits. Of course, our technology and procedures always keep your information secure and confidential.

In-depth reporting

You will receive a complete project summary with observations and recommendations based on careful analysis. This comprehensive look at contract compliance will assess whether your co-venture partners and key suppliers have complied with commercial agreements and have maintained an arm's length relationship with your company. It will also identify enhancements to contracting processes and operational performance. That knowledge leads to a positive impact on your bottom line.

Your AMS-PAR review

- A self-funding review of contracting procedures and accuracy
- Advanced data integration tools and technologies
- Secure project sites
- Minimal client-staff involvement
- Detailed reporting of findings
- Recommendations for improvements in processes and procedures

Check AMS-PAR

With an impressively credentialed staff and more than 40 years of diverse corporate experience, AMS-PAR offers your company an uncommon level of contract insight, providing the assurance that your company expects and deserves. Let's talk about what our reviews can do for you.

a higher level of assurance

281.866.8256 CORPORATE OFFICE

www.ams-par.com